The D'Hanis-Hondo combination team was defeated by Fredericksburg Sunday afternoon on the local diamond at the fair grounds. Next Sunday is an off-day for the local team, but a game will probably be matched for that day, to be played at D'Hanis.

Ben Langfeld was a business visitor to the Union stock yards in San Antonio Monday. Mr. Langfeld says that the San Antonio market was flooded with cattle, stockmen evidently hedging against prospects of continued drouth by disposing of surplus animals.

Jack Hardy, editor of the Zavalla County Herald, and his assistant, Harrold Davis, stopped over Saturday morning, while enroute to San Antonio, to pay this office a fraternal call. Mr. Hardy is located at Crystal City, in the heart of the Winter Garden district, and is publishing a tiptop paper for his territory.

Hondo theatre patrons have contributed substantially during the past week to the hospital and rest home for actors at Saranac Lake, N. Y., in memory of the late Will Rogers. Appeals for the hospital were broadcast from the screen all over the nation by famous film actors. The response in Hondo has been very generous, according to Manager R. L. Jennings.

Mr. W. H. H. DuBose, the berry man from the Dewberry and Blackberry Farm of Medina County, was in town Thursday with a load of dewberries which he soon sold. Mr. DuBose reports his dewberry crop as fine this year as they have had some rain. His peach crop, however, will be short because the trees were hit by the late cold spells. He says his plums and grapes look very promising at this time.

Mrs. F. H. Schweers was hostess to the Tuesday Contract Club at her home this week, entertaining two tables of players. Mrs. L. E. Heath won high score prize and Mrs. Ed. HIGHWAY TO BE WIDENED.

A long needed improvement in Hondo is soon to be an accomplished fact—Highway 90 is to be widened twenty-five feet through Hondo!

County Judge Arthur H. Rothe, Commisisoner Alfred A. Bader, and other members of the Commissioners Court were down in San Antonio Wednesday conferring with officials of the G. H. & S. A. Ry. Co. and secured from the Company donation of a 25-foot strip of their right-of-way adjoining the Highway on the north side and extending 1749 feet or the entire length of five blocks through the center of the town. The donation includes the block now occupied by the Company park south of the depot and two blocks on each side thereof extending east and west. The State Highway Department will take care of the widening and improving of the roadway and the only expense the county will be put to will be furnishing the labor to move the fence, trees, shrubbery, etc., from the strip off the park site, according to information furnished this paper by Commissioner Bader.

This improvement will give Hondo a greatly improved street and remove a serious hazard to travel along the Highway. The narrow condition at present has been a menace to travel always and as traffic has grown and demands for parking space increased the need for a wider thoroughfare has become imperative. The widening of the roadway, although it will narrow the confines of the company park, will add greatly to the appearance of the street, and there is no estimating the value of the increased safety it will afford traffic.

The generosity of the railroad company in making this donation to the town is most commendable and the citizenship and the traveling public owe it a lasting debt of gratitude. These improvements, which are an immediate need, will be permanent and of lasting benefit to the town and to travelers on Highway 90, and could not be had now without this generosity of the railway people.

The securing of this improvement is an achievement of your Chamber of Commerce, as it was that body which initiated the movement and its officers who stayed on the job until the agreement was reached with the railroad and the Highway people. President J. G. Barry of the Chamber of Commerce appointed Commissioner Bader, N. C. Johnson and Judge Arthur H. Rothe as a highway committee at the March meeting of the Chamber. The results are a credit to the efficiency of the Commitee.

STREET PAVING FOR HONDO.

County Commissioner Alfred A. Bader this week secured approval by the District W. P. A. office at Uvalde of a paving project in Hondo. It is planned to pave fourteen miles and seven hundred feet, lineal measure, with a sixteen-foot roadway, the W. P. A. furnishing the material, and the labor from its clientele.

This project will not necessitate a bond issue or the issuance of county warrants, but the citizens whose property will be benefitted by the paving will be expected to donate 12 cents per square yard for supplementing the W. P. A. funds.

If the project is carried out to its completion Hondo will have approximately twenty miles of paved streets, including the Highway and those streets paved by private means some years ago.

TWO NEW BRIDGES PROJECTED.

Commisisoner Alfred A. Bader informs this paper that the Highway Commission is lending an attentive ear to the demands for new bridges at Castroville and on the Hondo Creek where Highway 90 crosses it.

Both these places have good bridges, but they were built for wagon and not auto and truck traffic. They are both too narrow and too weak for present demands upon them and the longer they remain in use the more hazardous they become to lives and property.

The Chamber of Commerce of both Hondo and Castroville are urging these needed improvements.

MAY TRADES DAY.

Next Wedesday, May 12th, will be the date of Hondo's next monthly trades day. It has been arranged to offer a first premium of $40.00 and to give away four of $5.00 each. Further details will be given on the grounds, and you should not fail to be on hand early on that occasion.

In the meantime, come to Hondo to do your trading and ask for Trades Day tickets when you buy in Hondo.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

How did Mother's Day originate? Miss Anna Jarvis, a native of West Virginia, and now a resident of Philadelphia, originated the idea of observing a special day of this kind. The purpose as stated we quote: "To recall memories of the mothers who have gone; to brighten the lives of those who remain; and to encourage men, women and children to honor home and parents." In 1914 Congress authorized the President of the United States to designate, by annual proclamation, the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day. The first national proclamation was issued by President Wilson on May 9, 1914.

The day has been kindly regarded not alone in our country but in others as well. Ayone who knows what "Mother love" is from experience surely takes to the thought of honoring her on a special day. Such unselfish love cannot but be revered. And when it is done in a spirit of sober gratitude, it will help us better to understand and appreciate our mother and her God.

We anticipate a large attendance Sunday. Therefore we have arranged a special service for the Sunday school pupils and their parents which will be held in the English language beginning at 9:30 A. M. The regular German service will be held at 10:30 A. M. In both services we shall honor the Lord for our mothers. Come to the service you prefer, but come. The Sunday school will begin at 9:00 A. M.

The service on May 16, Pentecost, will begin at 10:30 A. M. Holy Communion will be served. A very appropriate time indeed for the Spirit to continue His work at the table of the Lord.

Sunday, May 23, English service also. This day has been designated by our District as "College Day". The service May 30 will, therefore, be German at 10:30 A. M.

SOLEMN COMMUNION HELD AT ST. JOHN'S.

A class of thirteen children, seven girls and six boys, made their Solemn Holy Communion Sunday, May 2, during the nine o'clock Mass in St. John the Evangelist's Church. Rev. Jos. Wulf, O. P., of San Antonio celebrated the Mass and Rev. Paul Potgens, local pastor, administered communion to the children and the members of their families. Rev. Potgens also addressed his sermon to the children and to their parents.

The class was composed of the following: Hilmer Bendele, Lloyd Hermes, Thomas Ney, Milton Renken, Herman Schueling, Maurice Zerr, Bettie Jean Bader, Rose Marie Finger, Mary Emma Graff, Violet Hermes, Dorothy Ney, Adele Schueling and Ina Mae Wernette.

Confirmation of a large class of children and adults will be confirmed in St. John's Church Sunday, May 23, by his Excellency, Most Reverend Arthur J. Drossaerts, Archbishop of San Antonio.

METHODIST CHURCH.

W. S. Highsmith, Pastor.

We look forward to Sunday, May 9th, with a great deal of anticipation and pleasure. It is set aside in our nation as the day when we pay tribute to our Mothers. The ancient writer in speaking of a worthy woman said, "Her candle goeth not out by night. Her children rise up and call her blessed". Sunday morning we have special music and sermon appropriate to the day. Sunday evening we have a program of mothers' day music with a men's quartet, mixed quartet, duets, solos, etc. You will especially enjoy these old hymns. Every one is invited to attend these services.

H. H. S. REPRESENTED AT MUSICAL FESTIVAL.

Hondo High School was represented at the fourth annual South Texas Mpsical Festival held at Seguin Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30, and May 1st. The local participants did not capture the first honors, but they garnered four points, being one of twenty-four schools out of thirty-three to win in any contest.

On Thursday, Adell Scott entered and won third place in the piano solos.

The Glee Club participated on Friday but failed to place, although reported to have sung very well. Hondo was the only Glee Club out of the thirty-three not in uniform and it is thought to have counted somewhat against it.

Billie Merritt played in the solo-string instrument contest on Saturday, and won second place with her violin solo.

The Wharton High School, with a score of 112 points, won the first award. Sinton was second with 72 points. Seguin and San Marcos Academy tied for third place with 67 points each.

An estimated crowd of 5,500 gathered in Seguin for the music meet, and the local high school paritcipants reported it a very enjoyable affair.

IN FAVOR OF MOVING LIGHTS.

Cards were sent out recently to members of the soft ball league in order that some benefit may be derived from the lights that are now on the plaza. There were several suggestions on the question of "what should be done with the lights?".

In the letter sent out some got the idea that only school children and officials would be able to use the lights if moved to the tennis courts. The above is not true, but the town people will be permitted to use the lights as much as they wish, and school children can play in the day time. The lights can easily be taken off the poles and moved to the football field and help out there during the football season and back to the tennis courts afterwards.

If the lights are moved either place it will not be at the expense of the soft ball members.

Some suggested leaving the lights where they are and adding enough lights to play baseball. This would no doubt cost someone around $3,000.00.

Here are the results of the cards which were returned: For moving the lights, 25 votes; for leaving the lights where they are, 9 votes.

GLEE CLUB TO PRESENT OPERETTA.

The Hondo High School Glee Club is busy putitng the finishing touches to the operetta, "Miss Caruthers Returns", which they plan to present before the public on Friday night, May 14th, in the high school auditorium. The plot of the musical how concerns a young lady who devotes her time to becoming acquainted with her late father's philanthropies, and in particular an Art Club, where talented young women might secure board and room at small cost while carrying on their studies in the various arts. Miss Caruthers' investigation, made incognito, uncover strange goings-on among the young ladies of the Art Club. The operetta gives several of the girls of the Glee Club opportunity to sing solos, and a number of tuneful melodies will be rendered by the entire group.

Miss Wilma Spratt is directing the program, of which a more complete account will be given next week.

Reserve the date, May 14th, for Miss Caruthers' return.

LADIES AID MEETS.

QUIHI NOTES.

And they sent away Rebekah, their sister, and her nurse, and Abraham's servant, and his men. Gen. 24:59.

Things are moving fast now. For a while it looked like a stalemate condition. Did the girl decide it by her declaration, I will go? Were the folks afraid that this might be the only chance for her? Were they convinced that it was more than a temporary infatuation? Was it because the material side of the bargain seemed satisfactory? Were they afraid of stubbon resistance of her wish was not granted, with a possible elopement in view? Were they laboring under a forthcoming. Now or never? Was it the best, perhaps, among a number of other proposals pending? Volumes could be written on what brings the homefolks to a settled, fixed and unwavering decision in such matters. But whether the heart is calm and not chafing under the "risk", whether there is restful, unperturbed and peaceful confidence behind the decision, that's another question. While many a wedding has all the earmarks of a truly joyous occasion, others have all the sombre hue of a funeral, "where sighs steal out and tears begin to flow", or at best the diffident air of "a world-without-end bargain",, and the giving away of the bride might be tantamount to an "ad" in the "Lost" column. Foundations often start cracking before the super-structure is erected, even without a "Coronation Commentary". The outlook and outlines here at Nahor are in bright colors. Here, for a once, the Lord had been given a chance for His say-so, for His directives and management, and "persuasion and belief had ripened into faith, and faith became a passionate intuition", a clear conviction that all is well, and with gladsome courage the bridal procession starts for Canaan, even then the land of promise. And that goes for the bride, too. That conviction is underlying her brief and emphatic, I will go. Where such heavenly assent and consent prevails, we dare maintain, All the world loveth a lover; where doubt prevails, it is always wiser and safer to have the bugle blow a hasty, Retreat!

By rights, the sick-list should be completely exhausted with our present high temperatures and dry spell. Yet, though many have fully recovered, a few are still holding on to it. Mr. Edwin Schulte has been down for several days, where he ought to be hard at it, out in the field. Sickness is doubly hard in the busy season. Prospects for an early recovery are fine. Also little Milton Grell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Grell, is ailing for several days, and the diagnosis of the case seems difficult. The Lord still has His various ways with big and little man, but He is never puzzled or doubting in His purpose, drawing upward, not downward.

Quite a number of people had turned out this morning (Ascension Day), remembering the Homecoming of the Lord, and remembering their loved ones who had followed Him on His homeward course. So many were forced to follow on that sad and tearful road to the cemetery in the last years and months, to lay in a silent grave what had meant joy and sunshine during a brief or long lifetime. Some still remember them with a silent prayer and a bleeding heart. Many a grave had received appropriate attention. May we have succeeded in bringing out a few consoling thoughts, based on Psalm 110.

Attention, members of the Ladies' Aid. Let us spend a few moments next Sunday after service, to decide on a definite date for the Aid anniversary and the additional feautres we had contemplated.

PARENTS HONOR SON.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bendele entertained with a barbecue dinner at their Upper Quihi home Sunday, May 2, 1937, in honor of their young son, Hilmer, who on that morning made his Solemn Holy Communion in St. John's Church.

At the noon hour a sumptuous dinner of barbecued meats, salads, pickles, cakes and coffee, was served. Again at evening time a supper was served buffet style.

The relatives and friends enjoying the occasion congratulated Hilmer on this eventful day of his life. The guests were as follows: Rev. THOUGHTS OF MOTHER.

With silver sprays caught in her hair,
Where secret time had placed them there.

And softened lines about her face,
Just as some piece of fine old lace.

Her hours—rich jeweled costly things—
Were set in Love. Their value brings

Them locked away from prying eye—
As treasured gems. And holding high:

Brings thankfulness for her who gave us birth
And taught us Love—Through Childhood Days of Mirth.

LISTEN TO THE FIRE ALARM.

Every time the fire siren blows at noon this "old fire horse" gets a start and has to rear up to keep from starting on a run for the fire! If you have never been a volunteer fireman you may not know how this feels. But if you are a property owner in Hondo or its environs the scream of the fire-siren, even when it is only announcing dinner time, should remind you that the Volunteer Fire Co. is the only protection we have against fire. And when thinking of that, remember that, no matter how willing, how active, how efficient the boys individually, the Company is only as efficient as is its equipment.

The Company needs new equipment. Some of its old equipment needs re-conditioning. And that means money is needed.

In order to provide needed funds, 500 postcard requests for a dime a month donation was sent out about sixty days ago. So far, according to Fire Chief Alfred Mechler, only about 75 pledges have been returnd. This won't buy much equipment. If among those who have forgotten to return these pledges be reminded now.

The best way to fight fire is to equip for it first.

Your property may be the kindling for the next conflagration. Don't let it be destroyed because you failed to kick in for needed equipment.

NEW BEAUTY PARLOR TO OPEN.

Mrs. Clara Fuos, owner and operator, and Mrs. Loma Wenmohs, assistant, will open a modernly equipped Beauty Shop in the Hondo Hotel building May 12th. Entrance will be on the east side, and the parlor will occupy the room formerly used as the barber shop.

Besides a well equipped shop, the ladies offer the public of Hondo and vicinity the benefit of their technically trained services. Mrs. Fuos finished her training at the Alamo Beauty College, San Antonio, in January. In March Mrs. Wenmohs completed her course at the Majestic Beauty College of the same city.

You are invited to visit the shop and on the opening day each visitor will be given a free premium ticket.

See announcement elsewhere in this paper.

ANNUAL PRIZE SHOOT AT QUIHI.

The Quihi Gun Club announces its annual Pentecost prize shooting and barbecue for Sunday, May 16th. Besides a contest of skill at rifle marksmanship for the members of the club and plenty of refreshments on the grounds, there will be a baseball game between Quihi and Riomedina ball teams in the afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The affair will close with a grand dance at night at which the San Geronimo Night Owls will furnish the music.

Everybody is invited and a large crowd is expected. It will be the place to meet all of your friends.

Supreme Court Bill Opposed by Senate Committee, 10 to 8—Mrs. Simpson Applies for Absolute Divorce—Fish Would End Our Gold Policy.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© Western Newspaper Union.

ANNOUNCEMENT of their position on the President's Supreme court bill by three more Democratic members of the senate judiciary committee seemingly made it certain that body would report the measure adversely to the senate. The line-up at this writing is 10 to 8 against the bill. The three who openly joined the opposition were Senators J. C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Pat McCarren of Nevada and Carl Hatch of New Mexico. With them in opposition are King of Utah, Van Nuys of Indiana, Burke of Nebraska, Connally of Texas, Austin of Vermont, Borah of Idaho and Steiwer of Oregon. Those committed for the measure are Ashurst of Arizona, Neely of West Virginia, Logan of Kentucky, Dieterich of Illinois, Pittman of Nevada and Norris of Nebraska. McGill of Kansas and Hughes of Delaware, still noncommittal, were counted as being on the administration side.

Senator O'Mahoney

Senator O'Mahoney, one of the enthusiastic New Dealers ordinarily, said: "The hearings have been completed. I have listened attentively to everything that has been said, and I have heard nothing to date which has convinced me that any increase of the court is either necessary or desirable."

Senator Hatch declared: "I do not think congress has the power to place men on the Supreme court to affect decisions in any way whatsoever. To do so would be an exercise of judicial power by the legislative branch of the government. If we place men on the court to change the trend of judicial opinions we thereby invade the province of the court and do that which many people have charged the court with doing."

Senator McCarren addressed the judiciary committee, in executive session, for an hour and a half and later said to the reporters: "In my judgment, the Supreme court should not be a department of government subject to the will of either of the other two branches of government. While the Supreme court and every other court that interprets the law should at all times keep abreast of the law and therefore be progressive, it is not for any other branch of the government to say it should reform its views to carry out the will of another branch. For that reason I am opposed to and will continue to oppose the President's bill."

The committee agreed to begin voting on the bill and on proposed amendments on May 18.

SENATORS, representatives, department heads, and almost everyone else in Washington officialdom were worrying themselves over expenditure reductions, taxes, rising prices and falling revenues, and Supreme court reformation. But President Roosevelt was gaily sailing the waters of the Gulf of Mexico, angling for tarpon. He was on the Presidential yacht Potomac, which he boarded at New Orleans; his vessel was escorted by three destroyers, the Moffett, the Schenk and the Decatur. At Galveston Secretary Marvin McIntyre set up a temporary White House, and Mr. Roosevelt planned to land at that city when he got through fishing.

SIX months having elapsed since Mrs. Wallis Simpson was granted a provisional decree of divorce, and the lady having behaved during that period in a way approved by the king's proctor, her solicitors petitioned the court to make the decree absolute. It was expected this would be done after the six days' interval required by legal procedure.

Mrs. Simpson

When Edward, duke of Windsor, and Mrs. Simpson will be married is not yet known to the public and probably not yet determined by the principals in this most famous of modern romances. The duke was so angered by reflections on his fiancee and himself in "Coronation Commentary," a book written by Geoffrey Dennis, that it was reported he might set the wedding date before coronation day; but later there were rumors that Mrs. Simpson, seeking to avert further criticism, had persuaded him to wait until after his brother had been crowned. Edward demanded that the book be withdrawn and that the author and publisher apologize. This demand was complied with, but nevertheless he had his solicitors in London start suit for damages on the ground of libel.

FROM all quarters of the earth men and women of much, little or no importance were flocking to London for the coronation; the diplomats were trying on their new knee breeches; the peeresses were buying wigs to make their coronets fit more comfortably; the officials, troops and horses were being rehearsed in their parts; the proprietors of parade seats were desperately trying to dispose of them at cut prices; and hotel managers and tradesmen of all sorts were preparing to make lots of money out of this thoroughly commercialized affair. It was said by steamship officials in New York that hundreds of Americans booked for the coronation had cancelled their passages, but despite this it was certain London would be thronged with visitors.

WHILE Democratic leaders in congress were disputing over various proposals for achieving the economy demanded by the President, the house without a quiver passed the second deficiency bill, carrying $79,200,000. The Democrats called it an economy measure because the appropriations were 19 millions less than the amounts asked by the department heads. But 15 of those 19 millions represented merely a reduction in the 30 million appropriation asked by the bureau of internal revenue for the refunding of processing taxes collected under the agricultural adjustment act. The saving, it was pointed out, was more a deferred "economy" in that the 15 millions will be included in the next budget.

"THIS is the outstanding financial blunder of the New Deal" said Representative Hamilton Fish of New York, Republican, speaking of the administration's policy of accumulating gold at $35 an ounce, or nearly twice the cost of production. Mr. Fish thereupon introduced a resolution forbidding the secretary of the treasury to purchase any more gold from foreign countries at more than $25 an ounce.

Rep. Fish

"The American taxpayers" declared Mr. Fish, "under the ruinous gold policy of the President and the secretary of the treasury, have become the 'angels' of Europe, and are now engaged in helping to finance these countries in their mad armament race. All of the nations of the world including Soviet Russia, have naturally unloaded their gold upon us at exorbitant profits, which, if we tried to sell back, we probably could not get 50 cents on the dollar.

"This insane and costly gold policy is almost on a par with the high financing of John Law's Mississippi bubble. The American people have been turned into milch cows, to be milked by every foreign country."

THE C. I. O. steel workers' organizing committee now claims a majority of the 540,000 wage earners in that industry.

Philip Murray, committee chairman, told the convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers in Pittsburgh that in the 10 months of the organization drive 325,000 members have been enrolled, equivalent to 60 per cent of the steel pay rolls.

"We have driven the company union out of American industry," Murray said. "No company union can hope to live from here on. Ten months ago the steel workers' organizing committee started from scratch. We had no members. Today we have built up 600 new lodges, enrolled 325,000 members, and signed wage contracts with 89 steel companies."

Seventy-nine women and forty-one men, arrested during the eviction of sitdown strikers from the Yale & Towne Manufacturing company plant in Detroit were held guilty of contempt of court by Circuit Judge Arthur Webster. They were convicted for violation of an injunction which the judges had issued, directing them to leave the plant.

Judge Webster imposed maximum penalties of thirty days in jail and $250 fines on George Edwards, United Automobile Workers of America organizer, and Peter P. Sedler, who said he was an employee of the Kelsey Hayes Wheel company. Ten day jail sentences were given three other persons. Sentencing of the others was deferred to July 15.

WILLIAM GILLETTE, the veteran actor who became famous in the role of Sherlock Holmes and is remembered also for his good work in "Secret Service" and other plays, died in Hartford, Conn., at the age of eighty-one. He had been ill since last autumn.

John G. Pollard, chairman of the board of appeals of the Veterans' administration and former governor of Virginia, passed away in Washington of bronchial pneumonia. He was sixty-six years old.

TWO thousand members of the United States Chamber of Commerce, gathered in Washington for their 25th annual meeting, started a vigorous campaign for change in the industrial and economic structure of the nation. To begin with, they adopted resolutions calling for amendment of the Wagner labor relations act and the undistributed corporate surplus tax.

The policies of the administration were hotly attacked by several speakers. Virgil Jordan of New York city, president of the national industrial conference board, said the government "has become an instrument of forces alien to the enterprise principle of American life and work who desire to destroy it and replace it by the principle of absolute subjection to the state, which in nearly every other part of the world holds the impoverished and fear-ridden people in its paralyzing power."

Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady asked the business men to give the Wagner act a chance to "work out."

"Labor must move as a collectivism," he said, "and must bargain through its own chosen representatives—just as the employer does. Unless labor, grouped collectively, can have its expert representatives wholly independent of employer influence, speak for it with a powerful voice, there is no real bargaining at all."

SECURITIES controlling the $3,000,000,000 railroad empire built up by the Van Sweringen brothers have been acquired from George A. Ball of Muncie, Ind., by Robert R. Young, Frank F. Kolbe and Allan P. Kirby, all of New York and comparatively unknown in high finance. The securities are those of the Midamerica corporation which Mr. Ball bought at auction two years ago for $3,121,000. The price paid by the New Yorkers was $6,375,000. The Muncie man, however, does not make a personal profit from the transaction for he had placed Midamerica with its holdings in a charitable fund.

Young said it was the plan of his group "to shrink the entire corporate structure" rather than expand it. He intimated that Midamerica corporation would be eliminated, and probably several other of the interlocking holding companies by which the Van Sweringens built up their intricate financial structure.

ANDREW MELLON, frequently the target of administration attacks, is again called on to defend his business. Attorney General Cummings announced that the Department of Justice had filed in the Federal District court in New York a suit to compel dissolution of the Aluminum Company of America—which Mellon controls—for the purpose of breaking "its monopolistic control" of the aluminum industry. By this action the government revives the Sherman anti-trust act as a legal weapon in regulating business.

Andrew Mellon

The suit named 36 officers, directors, and stockholders of the company, including Mellon. Twenty-five subsidiary and affiliated companies were named co-defendants. Other members of the Mellon family named with the former Treasury head are Paul Mellon, Richard K. Mellon, Jennie King Mellon, Sarah Mellon Scaife, David K. Bruce, son-in-law of Mellon, and Ailsa Mellon Bruce, his daughter.

The suit charges that the company is a monopoly in violation of the anti-trust laws and that it has power to fix arbitrary and discriminative prices. It charges the defendants with conspiracies to restrain and monopolize, attempts to monopolize, and monopoly in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

IN A letter addressed to H. B. Mitchell, president of the civil service commission, President Roosevelt placed a ban on speculation in securities by government officials and employees. There was no official explanation of this act, but for some time there have been rumors that some persons high up in the New Deal have been making a lot of money by speculating in the stock markets after getting tips on probable White House moves.

SENATOR HARRY F. BYRD of Virginia, Democrat, prepared for introduction in the senate a bill providing for the consolidation of the Home Owners' Loan corporation and the Federal Housing administration. This merger, said Mr. Byrd, would result in a saving of more than $24,000,000 a year without impairing the work of the units.

INTERVENTION by President Roosevelt averted, for the time being at least, a strike of 25,000 freight handlers on eight railroads that threatened the food supply of New York city. The President appointed an emergency board of three members to attempt a settlement. In his proclamation he said the dispute threatened "substantially to interrupt interstate commerce within the state of New York and other states in the eastern part of the country to a degree such as to deprive that section of the country of essential transportation service."

A dispute between rival workers' unions balked efforts of the national mediation board to effect a settlement. Under the railway labor act, the President forced a postponement for at least 30 days while mediators work.

Calves Need Only Dry Feed After First Four Weeks

Milk Fed in Limited Quantities the First Month.

Dairymen have always been troubled by the problem of how to get calves on dry feed. They realize that most of their worries are over when the calf is completely off milk and entirely on dry feed, yet few practical solutions for accomplishing this feeding change have been offered. Recent advances in milk prices have made their problem more acute. Research has shown calves are entirely capable of digesting solid food when only three or four days old.

Calves with Mother 3 Days

A simple plan for getting calves on dry feed has been worked out at the Purina Experimental Farm where hundreds of calves are raised. Calves are left with the cow only three days. During that time they get mother's milk because of its colostral content, an important and necessary lubricant to the new born calf's digestive system.

Soon Learn to Eat Dry Feed

After the calves are three days old they are taken from the cow and fed all the dry starting feed they will clean up. At first this is not much but every day the amount is increased. At first they get only two quarts of milk per day with calf startena, hay and water. At the beginning of the second week they are fed four quarts of milk daily and all the calf startena, hay and water they will eat. During the third week they get five quarts of milk daily with dry feed kept before them all the time. At the beginning of the fourth week the milk is cut to three quarts daily, causing calves to eat more dry food. After four weeks no milk is fed at all. Calf startena, hay, a little salt, and water is their entire ration. These amounts of milk are for Holstein and the larger breeds of calves. Guernsey and Jersey calves are fed a little less milk.

I DARE YOU—

A Challenging Book By a Practical Business Man.

Not often does a two-fisted, hard-hitting business man have the time or the inclination to write from his experiences such an inspirational book as "I Dare You." William H. Danforth, author of this challenging volume, has drawn from the wealth of his own experiences in writing this daring message.

Nationally Known

As founder of a large feed and cereal business, lecturer, church worker, author and world traveler, William H. Danforth, chairman of the board of Ralston Purina Company, has dared to do many big jobs. As an employer he challenges the physical and mental best of every one of his thousands of employees. But his influence extends outside his business organization. In the field of education, and in church circles, William H. Danforth is known as the challenger who dares young people to bring out the best that is within them.

William H. Danforth, founder of the Ralston Purina Company, and author of "I Dare You."

Ranks Among Best Sellers

"I Dare You," at first printed privately for circulation among associates and friends, has today found its way into schools, churches, camps, and libraries all over the nation. So rapidly has the popularity of this little book grown that today it is ranked among the best sellers of the nation.

William H. Danforth in explaining why he wrote "I Dare You" says that as a business man he agrees that he should stick to business, but that he had the urge to share his philosophy with the few who are headed somewhere. "I Dare You" will be passed up by those who are afraid," says the author. "It will only bore the sophisticated, and amuse the sceptic. It will antagonize some. Many will not even know what it is about. It is written only for those who believe they can be bigger and more important than they are."

(Editor's Note: A folder on "I Dare You" can be had for the asking by writing the "I Dare You" committee, St. Louis, Missouri, 835 S. Eighth St.)

Young At 60, Or Old At 40? Diet Decides

Women are as old or as young as their state of health. A woman may be young at sixty years or old at forty. It all depends on her physical well-being.

Youth and beauty have a foundation in sound health. And food is easily the most important item in health. In giving consideration to the subjects of diet and beauty, women should not forget the food essentials that make for the preservation of teeth, hair, figure and complexion.

Blame for round shoulders, flat chest and poor teeth among women is due in large measure to faulty diet, or, specifically, to a lack of lime and phosphorus. Milk, or evaporated milk, which is simply cow's milk with 60 per cent of the water taken away, is especially rich in lime.

Because of the concentration of evaporated milk, which is regulated by government standards, it is of double the richness of ordinary market milk, as is shown in the following table:

Ordinary Milk.
Fat	3.5 to 4	per cent
Sugar (lactose)	4.5 to 4.75	per cent
Proteins	3.5 to 4	per cent
Minerals	.7 to .75	per cent
Evaporated Milk.
Fat	7.8 to 8.2	per cent
Sugar (lactose)	9.5 to 10	per cent
Proteins	7.5 to 8.2	per cent
Minerals	1.4 to 1.6	per cent

A quart of milk a day for adults is recommended by doctors not only because of its high mineral content, but for the reasons that it helps keep the digestive tract in proper condition, strengthens the body to resist disease, and gives proper balance to the diet.

Salads also play an important part in the dietary. Some sort of a salad, lettuce, tomato, fresh fruit, cabbage or vegetable, should be eaten at least once a day. Neither is the daily menu complete without a generous quality of coarse, leafy vegetables, valuable for their high vitamin content. Fruit juices also have very beneficial properties.

If a woman follows out the rules of diet, birthdays to her will be nothing more than an excuse for a celebration.

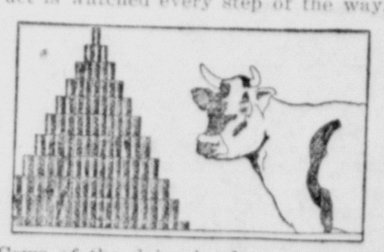

Purity of Milk Protected Now By Scientists

By KATHRYN ST. JOHN

Careful housewives constantly make it a point to ascertain the quality of each item that goes on their tables. Preparing food for the family is an extremely important job, for the proper selection and preparation of foods make in a large measure for the health and happiness of the family.

Milk is the most nearly perfect food, but it is a very delicate one as well. The keeping qualities of milk are slight. Danger from contamination is ever present. Evaporated milk, which is double rich because of the removal of 60 per cent of the water, is science's solution to these conditions.

Safeguarding evaporated milk is worked out as perfectly as man's ingenuity has been able to make the process. From cow to can, the milk which goes into the evaporated product is watched every step of the way.

Cows of the dairy herds are guarded with constant care and are subjected to regular inspections by veterinary surgeons. Herds are carefully groomed, and their yards and barns are kept scrupulously clean, as are all utensils. Milk condenseries are located in the heart of the big dairy regions to facilitate speedy handling, for this is essential if the milk is to be canned at "its moment of maturity." Canvas-covered trucks haul the milk to market, thus protecting the product from contamination on the way. Arriving at the condensery, the milk goes through tests for acidity, sediment, flavor and butterfat content before it is accepted.

Experts watch the progress of the milk through every step of its way. It goes into the evaporating machine; to the homogenizer, which breaks up the fat globules so that the milk may be easily digested by the consumer; by way of the almost human filling machine into sterilized cans; then into the sterilizer, where the cans are surrounded by steam and boiling water, destroying any possible bacteria. Inspectors handle the product as the last step to see that the canning job has been perfectly done. Labeling and packing follow. The housewife obtains the milk as fresh and sweet as when it came from the cow.

Field Work

CLEMENT WATKINS, a tall sandy-haired young man of twenty-two, swung off the fast line bus where the highway intersected with Main street in the village of Dawson, glanced appraisingly around the group of stores that clustered near the four corners, and walked up Main street in the direction which evenly planted rows of tall elm trees, shading a number of white-painted, old-fashioned houses, indicated as the residential section of the village.

He walked briskly for a quarter of a mile along Main street until he reached the last house, walked debonnairely up to the front door and rang the bell, waited a minute, rang again, waited a minute and a half, rang again—waited sixty seconds and then walked out again to the street. Then he walked back to the next house, turned in there and rang the bell.

No need ringing that more than once. If anyone was home they'd hear it, thought Clem. Someone was in and the someone who answered the door was a very pretty girl.

"I know you are very busy," said Clem, because he noticed that she had a duster in her hand. "But I was in Dawson today and I just thought I'd drop in and have a little talk. Let me see, the name is—"

"My aunt's name is Mrs. Judson," said the girl, blushing a little, but without a shade of cordiality. "My aunt is busy."

"Well, I hardly wonder at this time of the morning," said Clem with a smile that looked more assured than it was. "I'm quite content to talk with you instead. Would you mind if I stepped in. You see, I'm a student at Radford college—"

"For pity sake's," exclaimed the girl, depositing her duster on a hall table and coming forward. "And you know my brother Harold Hawks." She held out her hand and blushed and giggled a little. "You know me, too, of course. I'm Mary—Mary Hawks. I met you at the junior prom."

"I was afraid you would have forgotten me," said Clement, trying in vain to recall the girl. "You know, I'm Clem Watkins."

"And to think you came all the way to Dawson to see me," said Mary. "To see us—I mean. My aunt will be so pleased. You see, I'm living here now for good. When Harold gets settled in the city he's going to send for me—and I'm going to get a job. But it's very pleasant here in Dawson—only a little dull. My aunt will be so pleased—I do hope you didn't expect to find Harold—"

"I hadn't any idea of finding him here—" said Clem with perfect truthfulness.

"But just imagine remembering me," said Mary, who seemed, as Clem regarded her, to become prettier and prettier. Naive, perhaps, but certainly very lovely. "Why, we had only two dances at the prom—"

It was just then that Mrs. Judson entered the room, looked surprised, then pleased, and gave Clem a hearty handshake when Mary presented him.

Then between Mary and her aunt, Clement heard much of his classmate's occupation in the city. He had signed up with one of the large electrical concerns, getting next to nothing to start with, but sure to have regular promotions.

Clement told them that as he had studied during his three undergraduate summers he had managed to get his master's degree at the same time his class graduated, and that in the autumn he was starting in as an instructor in college.

Mrs. Judson and Mary beamed approval. "But aren't you having to do anything all summer?" asked Mrs. Judson.

"Why, yes," said Clement—and then stopped awkwardly. "I had made plans for a little—a little field work to tide over." But then he changed the subject. He was glad at least that he hadn't brought the sample vacuum cleaner with him as he sometimes did. He was working now on the electrical refrigerator with the demonstration chart tucked away in his pocket.

Clement, of course, stayed the morning and then had midday dinner with his friends. And after that Mr. Judson, a genial, retired farmer, insisted on taking them all off in his car to a county fair.

"And the funny thing," said Mary as they were sitting down at a table eating ice cream a little later, "was that I thought you were an agent Honestly, Aunt Mame, I thought he had come to sell something. And you know we all just loathe agents—you can't imagine how much. And you know—" turning to Clem, "Aunt Mame said that if I ever let another agent in again she'd send me packing."

"Can't stand them," said Mrs. Judson, "and yet Gilbert says some of the boys do that sort of work in the summer—"

"They must be a fine lot," from Mr. Judson, "if with all their college learning to go around ringing door bells for a living."

"You've said it," said Clement with a hearty laugh—a laugh that was a bit embarrassed because, daringly feeling under the table at his side for Mary's hand, he found it waiting for him with little fingers ready to nestle contentedly in his own strong grasp.

THE WAY OF SALVATION.

By Rev. J. T. Horger.

ARTICLE NO. 29.

This is the fourth article from the Hebrew epistle, and we take up where we left off, Heb. 10: 26-39. "For if we sin wilfully, after we have received the knowledge of the truth (have been regenerated), there remaineth no more sacrifice for sin." (That is, so long as the soul continues in sin and does not repent, which means to quit sin.) "But a certain fearful looking for of judgment, and fiery indignation, which shall destroy the adversaries. He that dispised Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses: of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden underfoot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was SANCTIFIED, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace." We note that the apostle speaks above of these backsliders having been sanctified; that was only true in the sense that every Spirit-born soul is sanctified, namely: God has prepared for their sanctification, and offered it to them; and if any children of God refuse their sanctification after they realize that God has prepared it for them and then turn back into worldliness, they fall into the same condemnation of having trodden under foot the blood of the covenant by which they were PROVISIONALLY sanctified, although it may have never been applied to their hearts. There may be souls who, reading these articles, become convinced of the truth that God has PREPARED for their sanctification. If so, I warn you not to spurn His grace, but like the humble spirit of one, say, "Behold thy servant; let it be unto me as Thou wilt."

But we move on and find that the apostle is gathering new hope again of their reception of the Holy Ghost. Heb. 10: 35-39: "Cast not away your confidence, which hath GREAT RECOMPENSE of reward. For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might RECEIVE THE PROMISE. For yet a little while, and he that shall come, will come, and will not tarry." The apostle assures them that the Holy Ghost will come in the near future. He exhorts that the justified shall live by faith; "but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him. But we are not of them that draw back unto perdition, but of them that believe to the saving of the soul." That is, unto full salvation, by the way of the baptism of the Holy Spirit. That is the Bible way, God's ONLY way, namely: by way of the new birth and thence on into the baptism with the Holy Ghost and fire; and then a life of righteousness to the best of our ability, ever growing in grace and the knowledge of the truth, acknowledging our faults as fast as we become consious of them, repenting and starting anew again along the path of righteousness and true holiness, with our eyes fixed on Christ and His glory for time and eternity. But don't think you are ready for the race until you are sure you have received the Holy Ghost. Don't be deceived by the fact that you have fellowship and communion with and through the Spirit in the regenerate life; such was true with Jesus' disciples before they received the Holy Ghost on Pentecost. John 14:17, Jesus, in promising the Holy Ghost, said: "Ye KNOW him for he dwelleth WITH you, and shall be IN you." In the regenerate life the Holy Ghost is WITH us, but if truly sanctified and obediently walking in righteousness, He abides IN us, much stronger, more evident, more comforting, and satisfying is the INDWELLING Holy Ghost.

Now we come to the 11th chapter of Hebrews. Has it ever occurred to you that possibly if it had not been for the fact that the apostle was trying to quicken and strengthen the FAITH of these Hebrews to go on to perfection, to receive the gift of the Holy Ghost and be truly sanctified by a SECOND work of grace, in all probability we would never have had this marvelous chapter in Hebrews touching the wonderful achievements and obtainments through FAITH by the Old Testament saints. But the above is true; and after pointing out their wonderful accomplishments by faith, the apostle tells us, 11:39: "And these all, having obtained a good report through FAITH, received not the promise." What promise do you suppose he referred to? Why, "the promise of the Father", the gift of the Holy Ghost, which was never tendered every Spirit-born child of God until ATONEMENT was thoroughly prepared on the cross by Christ. Math. 27: 50-51 tells us: "Behold, the veil of the temple was rent in twain from top to bottom." This veil separated the HOLY from the MOST HOLY place, and represented the passing from the Old Testament to the New Testament dispensation; and also signified that the way into the experience and reception of the baptism of the Holy Ghost—the HOLIEST of all experiences—was open to every soul that truly believed God's promise and would accept it on God's terms. So the apostle says, Heb. 11: 40: "God having provided some BETTER thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect."

We enter the 12th chapter of Hebrews to find the apostle admonishing: "Wherefore seeing that we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight (worldliness) and the SIN which doeth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us." Not only the race of the Christian life, in general, but the race for the experience of holiness. He then says, "Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin." Doubtless, the carnal mind is here referred to. He then tells us that our earthly parents corrected us, and we gave them reverence. Shall we not much rather be in subjection to the Father of spirits and live? "For they verily for a few days chastened us for their own pleasure; but he for our profit that we might be partakers of his holiness." Some one says: "Oh, yes, in a GENERAL sense, we may partake of God's holinesss". But the apostle is holding all the way through for a distinctive and definite experience in holiness. This chastisement of the Lord includes both the teaching of the Scriptures and the rebukes of the Spirit in general; but more particularly refers to the specific conviction that falls upon the mind and heart for the loathsomeness and heinousness of that wicked spirit that lurks within every heart that has not been cleansed by the blood. This chastisement is very great in some cases. It is a sense of uncleanness and unfitness.

Next, "Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord." We all know, that according to the Bible, we must be holy to go to Heaven; but we hope to attain thereunto without going God's way. But the apostle continues to exhort: "Looking diligently lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled; lest there be any fornicator or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright. Esau and Jacob, two twin brothers, representing two Christians; Esau despised his birthright, which stood for the inheritance of the Holy Ghost, and sold it for one meal. Jacob, who loved it, planned and labored for it, and finally got it. For that reason, it was written, "God loved Jacob, and hated Esau." The apostle tells us that later Esau tried to regain his inheritance, but it was too late, it was gone. Will the reader look up and read Heb. 12: 17-29, in which he points out the greatness of the present dispensation, for the obtaining of FULL SALVATION.

YANCEY SCHOOL NEWS.

SENIOR FIELD DAY.

The Yancey Seniors spent an enjoyable day Tuesday, May 4, interviewing the various industries in our locality. The asphalt mine at Cline, Texas, was shown to us by Mr. J. B. Smith, who very kindly conducted us through the mine and explained to us the procedure of making asphalt. We had a delicious lunch at the park in Uvalde, and returned to D'Hanis where we viewed the brick factory. Mr. Carle was very nice to us, showing us all the steps gone through in making bricks and tile. The day proved very interesting to all of us. This trip was taken as a project in Economic Geography, a subject we are trying to affiliate.

FIGHTING TRIO IN "ROARIN' LEAD."

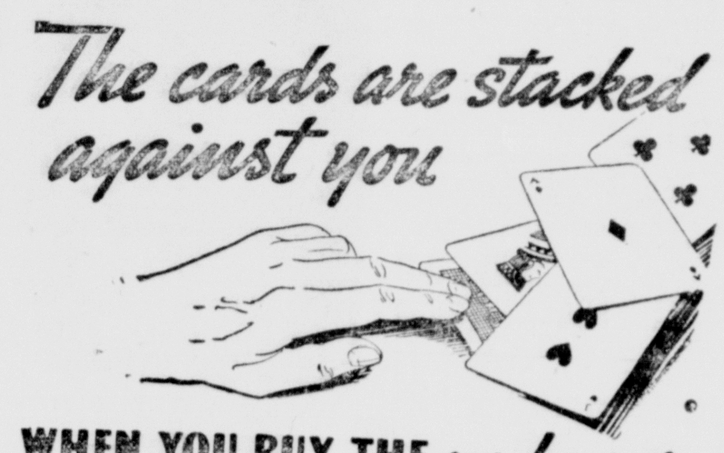

In the first of Republic's "three mesquiteer" series, the trio of dare-devil adventurers go to the aid of World War veterans who are being cheated out of their homesteads by cattle barons. In the second there was a general roundup of cattle rustlers. In the third—"Roarin' Lead"—which is current at the Colonial Theatre, Bob Livingston, Ray Corrigan and Max Terhune again go into action—and how!

This time the Good Samaritans come to the rescue of an orphanage and the pretty manager who is being robbed of her father's inheritance by a mob of small town grafters. This fast-moving drama also brings romance in the beautiful blonde Christine Maple, formerly of the Ziegfeld Follies, who makes her screen debut as a leading lady in "Roarin' Lead."

And last but not least, the program of entertainment supplied for the benefit of the orphans, is more than worth the price of admission. The "mesquiteers" sing, the Frye children dance an adagio and apache number, while hundreds of Meglin Kiddies furnish real musical and entertainment talent seldom seen in children.

HARTUNG BESTS BAKER IN MOUND DUEL.

Hartung, ace hurler for Coach Barry, was in midseason form last Friday, and let the boys from Gonzales down with five singles, and two unearned runs. Bawer, the Apache who started the game, was also going great as he allowed seven hits but the Owls' speedy base runners stole second four times and third once. This put them in position to score on singles hit by the next man at bat.

The Owl batters overcame one fault that they didn't control in Gonzales. This was the ability to hit in the pinches. They allowed only fou men to be stranded on the cushion while seven were left by Gonzales. Gonzales got away to a one run lead in the third when Ehrig singled, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Rothe's error at short. The Owls, however, evened it up in their half after the first two men went down on strikes. Langford singled through the infield, stole second and came on to third when Brozozski's throw got away from Logan. Rothe promptly singled him home but died on base after stealing second. The Owls went ahead in the fifth when Nester doubled with one out, went to third while the catcher was throwing out Hartung and scored on Langford's infield single. Langford stole second The next man up struck out after and scored on Rothe's second single. Rothe had stolen second and third.

In the seventh Baker scored one run back to cut Hondo's lead to one talley. He was hit by Jack Hartung, went to second on a fielder's choice and scored on two passed balls. But Hondo came back in their half and gained a lead which they held the rest of the game. Huesser led off with a double to the right center garden, Nester sacrificed and Huesser scored on a fielder's choice.

This was, by far, the best pitching exhibition the Owls have put on this season and the fans hope they keep it up.

REPRESENTED AT HOMEMAKING RALLY.

The annual State Homemaking Rally was held in Fort Worth, April 29-30 and May 1st. Hondo High School was represented by three delegates, Jo Reily, Bonita Speece, and Ginger Fusselman, and the Home Economics teacher, Miss Stubbs.

Friday, April 23, the school dresses and street dresses made by the Home Economics I and Home Economics II, respectively, were judged. The first placers were to enter their dresses in the state contest at Fort Worth. The winners of the school dresses were: first place, Bonita Speece; second place, Lorine Koch; third place, Zonie Taylor. Of the street dresses: first place, Jo Reily; second, Ginger Fusselman; third, Kathleen Reily.

The third delegate, Ginger Fusselman, was sent as a representative from the Hondo Future Home Makers Club.

The money made at the Style Show Monday night, April 26, with some other that was in the treasury was used to pay the representatives' expenses.

Thursday morning at ten thirty the State Future Homemakers Meeting was held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Texas Hotel. The meeting was conducted by Henrietta Bowlin of Lubbock, State President. There was group singing lead by Miss Nell Parmley, State Director of Music. Superintendent Green of Fort Worth gave the welcome address, and Rosemary Polk, Vice-President of the State Club, the response. The band from the North Texas State Teachers College furnished an entertaining program. Speeches were made by Mrs. Iva Dowling Caldwell, member National Advisory Committee, Home Economics Student Clubs, and Miss Lela Tomlinson, Chairman National Advisory Committee, Home Economics Student Clubs and Assistant Supervisor of Home Economics in Louisiana.

The business meeting was postponed until Saturday morning.

Thursday afternoon Ginger entered a contest on selecting a child's play garment, but did not win anything. Bonita entered one on planning luncheons. She won first place in Group B. This was a first place in State-wide competition and is really something to be proud of.

Thursday night the Hondo delegates attended a banquet given for all Future Homemakers in the Crystal Ballroom of the Texas Hotel.

Jo and Bonita entered their dresses in the street dress and school dress contests.

Miss Stubbs attended a luncheon for teachers and a meeting of teachers and judges.

As scheduled Saturday morning the business Future Homemakers meeting was held, at which the officers for the ensuing year were elected. The club also voted to send the out-going President to the National Rally in Kansas City. After this meeting there was a Grand Finale in the auditorium of the Pascal High School. There was a Style Show and the winners of all events were announced.

All contests and F. H. A. activities were carried on at the Texas Hotel. There were approximately fifteen hundred representatives at the Rally.

The trip was both beneficial and educational and those making it are very appreciative and wish to thank each and every one who in any way helped send them. They also hope that through them the other H. E. girls will benefit from it.

OWLS MEET AUSTIN FRIDAY.

The Owls leave for Austin Friday and play there Friday night. They will stay there overnight and Saturday afternoon come on back to San Antonio and play Gonzales the final game in their three game series for the Tri-District championship. Ep Finger is slated for the starting assignment against the boys from Austin Friday night and Jack Hartung, who held Gonzales to five singles last Friday, will be the probable starting hurler Saturday afternoon. Stevenson will probably draw the mound assignment for Austin and the odds will say Baker will oppose Hartung Saturday afternoon.

These are some of the fastest clubs in this part of the state and the Owls will have to play heads up ball to win.

All you school-loving Owl supporters come on down to Tech Field Saturday afternoon and help support the Owls.

—Owlets—

HONDO TRAMPLES PEACOCK.

The Hondo Owls drew an easy assignment when they took the field against Peacock Military Academy, coming out on the long end of a 32 to 5 score in an abbreviated contest of seven innings. The Owls battled around in three of their six bats and gathered a total of 29 runs in the big innings.

Grell started on the mound for the Owls but retired in favor of "Lefty" Rucker in the fourth place; Rothe, a rookie-pitcher, pitched the seventh inning for the Owls and struck out three successive batters.

SAN ANTONIO LIVESTOCK. Monday, May 3, 1937.

(Federal-State Market News Serv.)

The San Antonio livestock market Monday witnessed the largest supply of cattle and calves for a single day than for many years. Drying ranges are perhaps the main contributing factor in the unusually heavy runs of the San Antonio market at this time. Calves were in liberal supply but fed yearlings and fed steers were scarce. The market opened fairly active with calves 25 to 50 cents lower, as compared with last week. Cows sold weak to 25 cents lower, with spots sharply less on fat cows. Steers, yearlings and other classes sold steady to weak. Considerable cattle and calves were unsold near the close of the day's trading. Estimated receipts consisted of 1200 cattle and 1200 calves.

The bulk of plain grass yearlings cashed at $5.00 to $6.00, with a few short-feds up to $7.50 and above, with 950-pound offerings to $8.50. Small package of 1090-pound good grade steers brought $9.00; several truck lots of grass steers brought $8.00 down to $5.00. Good grass calves cashed mostly at $7.00 and down with a few upward to $8.00. Common calves ranged downward to $5.00 with a few 'rannies" to $4.00 and below. Vealers cashed mostly at $6.50 to $7.50 with a few up to $8.00. Low cutter and cutter cows sold mostly at $3.00 to $4.25; medium cows to $5.50 with a very few good fat cows to $6.00 and $6.50. Bulls mostly $5.00 and down; few to $5.25. Stocker calves mostly $5.50 to $6.00 with some sales above and below.

Hogs, 500 head. The market was generally steady with late last week. Pigs were slow. A top of $9.70 was paid by all interests. The bulk of good to choice 180 to 250 pound butchers cashed at $9.50 to $9.70. Best 140 to 160 pound offerings, mostly $8.00 to $9.00; 160 to 180 pounds, $9.00 to $9.70; 260 to 300 pounds, $9.25 to $9.70. Packing sows sold mostly at $8.00 to $8.50 with a few to $8.75. Pigs were draggy at mostly $6.00 to $7.00 with few down to $5.50.

Sheep, 190 head; goats, none. Few matured shorn wethers $4.50, bulk unsold near the close.

Oscar was about to purchase a seat for a cinema in the afternoon. The box-office man asked, "Why aren't you at school?"

"Oh, it's all right, sir," said the youngster, earnestly. "I've got measles."

ZIMMERMANN-HAEGELIN.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, April 27th, in St. Louis Catholic Church, at Castroville when Miss Doris Haegelin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund B. Haegelin of Rio Medina, became the bride of Howard C. Zimmermann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Zimmermann of San Antonio.

The impressive nuptial high mass was said by the Very Rev. Dean J. Leinzen, pastor, officiating. Rev. Joseph Jacobi, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, San Antonio, was also present in the sanctuary.

The bridegroom's attendants entered walking in a double file. They were Raymond Zimmermann and Charles Haynes, and assisting with ushering were Pat Green and Edgar Zimmermann.

The bride's attendants who entered next, walking singly, were Miss Lila Craig and Mrs. Charles Haynes, the bridesmaids, and Miss Irene Zimmermann, sister of the bridegroom, the maid of honor. The bride entered with her father and was met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Marvin Haegelin, brother of the bride.

The bride was lovely in a gown made in a combination of satin and heavy Chantilly lace, with a long, graceful, fan-shaped train falling over the bridal satin. The sleeves formed a full lace puff over the wrists, while satin-covered buttons extended down to the waist in back. Her long veil of tulle, double to the waistline, was caught to the head with a pleated halo and a wreath of orange blossoms. A fan-shaped bridal bouquet was carried fashioned of white Spanish Iris and Queen Ann's lace. The bride's only ornament was a diamond-studded gold cross, a gift from the groom.

The bridesmaids wore picturesque gowns of peach marquisette over taffeta, finished on the bottom with a fold and made with full-gored skirts. The cowl neckline of the bodice was finished with a cluster of small handmade roses and self-covered buttons extended to the waistline in back. On their heads were worn coronets fashioned of tiny roses.

The maid of honor wore a lovely gown of peach bloom marquisette over taffeta, fashioned along the same lines as the bridesmaids' with the exception of a graceful bow which held in the draped fullness of the bodice, and double-puffed sleves. They all carried arm bouquets of token roses and blue delphinium.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Haegelin entertained with a breakfast in the patio of the St. Anthony Hotel in San Antonio, complimenting the bride and bridgegroom, members of the bridal party, and immediate members of the family. The table was attractive in a summer decoration of white stock, sweetpeass, snap-dragons, baby breath and greenery. The bride's cake was a lovely ring-shaped confection decorated in pastel shaded morning glories, roses and lilies. Miss Myrtle Zimmermann was in charge of the bride's book.

After the breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman left on a motor trip to Monterrey and Salltillo, Mexico. For traveling the bride wore a semi-sport suit of pullman blue and a grey lace-frilled blouse. Her accessories were grey.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman will make their home in Houston.

RESETTLEMENT CELEBRATES ITS SECOND BIRTHDAY.

This week marks the end of the second year of the Resettlement Administration, which, in Medina County, has made 232 loans to farmers for a total of $43,320.

C. W. Price, county supervisor, announced that during this two-year period the Resettlement Administration has also made 194 non-repayable grants in the county for a total of $3,432, in addition to the loans.

The supervisor said when Resettlement Administration was set up two years ago, its first job was to take over farm families formerly on relief, and to make these families self-supporting. Detailed plans of farm and home management were worked out with each family, and backed by loans for the necessary supplies, livestock and equipment.

"More than 18 per cent of Texas farmers have incomes ranging from $400 down to less than nothing. A typical member of this group," the supervisor said, "spends on an average only $1 a month for food, only fifty cents a month for clothing, and only five cents a month for medical care." He pointed out that these families can develop, in the aggregate, an enormous purchasing power, if properly financed and supervised.

"Many farmers included in the Resettlement program last year had never before known what it was to grow a garden or to own a cow or chickens," the supervisor said. "Most of them had no team or tools. Resettlement plans worked out last year enabled such families in Texas to buy 26,599 horses and mules and 7,932 milk cows. These families planted 19,762 gardens and put up more than five million pounds of dried meat and vegetables as well as more than three and a half million cans. A total of 57,540 loans to such families were made in Texas during the past two years by the Resettlement Administration, for $11,878,654. The number of non-repayable grants was 105,900 for $1,547,082.

The Debt Adjustment Section of Resettlement in Texas, working through volunteer committees in each county, has not only assisted in saving 916,131 acres of land from foreclosure on 3,529 farms, but has also brought about refinancing through which $253,409 in delinquent taxes has been paid to state and county treasuries.

To help put land into the hands of low-income farmers, and a small group of the more successful type of tenants, Resettlement has accepted options on 34,090 acres of land in Texas and has paid for 22,625 acres of this. The land was bought at a price which will return six per cent above taxes and insurance, with crops and prices equal to those of the last three years. Construction of buildings is now in progress on 125 of these farms and 145 families are now working them, living in temporary quarters. Most of them later will be given opportunity of buying, with forty years time to pay and interest at the rate of three per cent.

In an area of worn-out and eroded land in Fannin County, options have been accepted on 12,623 acres of land and payment has been made for 5,335 acres. More than 500 men unable to make a living any longer by farming this land are employed converting it into demonstration projects, the improvements including lakes which will impound 1,168 acres of water.

Cooperative loans involving $126,358 have been made by Resettlement to 163 groups of Texas farmers, to buy equipment too large or expensive for small individual farmers, or to purchase pure-bred sires or set up other community projects which could not be financed through any other public or private agency.

FISHING LAW CHANGED FOR MEDINA LAKE.

Trot line fishermen at Medina Lake do not have to worry about county boundaries any more.

Due to an exemption made in the fishing laws by the State Legislature, anglers now may put as many hooks on a trot line in any part of Medina Lake as they care to. Heretofore, fishermen were not allowed to use more than two hooks on a trot line in the Bandera County portion of the lake.

However, the old law has not been changed for trot line fishing in the Medina River in Bandera County.—San Antonio Express.

CAVE-MAN.

There was a young man from the West
Who loved a young lady with zest;
So hard did he press her
To make her say, "Yes Sir,"
That he broke three cigars in his vest.
